Our SmoothFold aluminium bifolding doors are more than just functional; they are a design statement. Their streamlined appearance exudes sophistication while their robust aluminium frame ensures lasting durability.

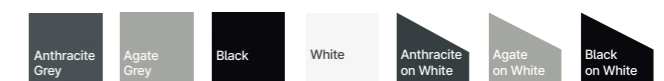

Unlike traditional timber or uPVC options, aluminium is both lightweight and incredibly strong, offering slim sightlines that maximise views while maintaining structural integrity. This means more glass, more light, and a greater sense of openness. It's a choice that doesn't just transform your home but elevates your lifestyle.

When it comes to customising your aluminium SmoothFold doors, the options are almost limitless.

Whether you're looking for something sleek and glossy or prefer a subtle matte finish, you can choose from a wide range of colours both inside and out. And if you're after something a little different, there are even textured finishes available to give your design that extra touch of uniqueness.

The best part? You're only limited by your imagination. And to top it off, all our aluminium products come with a 25-year Qualicoat colour warranty, so you can enjoy peace of mind knowing your colours will last.
